

Gilchrest and Kratovil Both Voted for O'Malley
O'Malley is the glue that holds the liberal family together in Maryland

Annapolis - Yesterday Wayne Gilchrest declared he voted for Democratic Governor Martin O'Malley in 2006 giving just one more example of his tilt to the left.

Gilchrest and Kratovil's shared support for Martin O'Malley should come as no surprise. Martin O'Malley, Wayne Gilchrest, and Frank Kratovil share many of the same liberal policies. "O'Malley, Kratovil and Gilchrest support higher taxes, more wasteful government spending, and amnesty for illegal immigrants - that's liberal," said Chris Meekins, Harris Campaign Manager.

All three candidates have also stated they will be voting for Barack Obama on November 4th. In his primary campaign, Frank Kratovil campaigned throughout the district with Governor O'Malley by his side. "O'Malley is the glue that holds the liberal family together in Maryland," Meekins added.

Frank Kratovil has made clear whom he will represent in Congress stating, "I want to be an ally of the Governor (Martin O'Malley) in Washington." (Star Democrat, 6/7/2007)

"The last thing voters in the first district want is O'Malley Jr. - Frank Kratovil - in Congress" said Meekins. "Andy Harris will be the independent voice who will vote for lower taxes and less wasteful government spending in Congress."
